What Young People Think Educators need to know

Dudley Youth Council

Focus on positives

- Don't tell us not to do things, teach us from a positive angle
- We zone out if we feel we are having the same conversation over and over again
- Don't pressure us to tell you things – leave a 'window of opportunity'
- We know you want to make us safe but it needs to be in a real context

Look at different ways of doing things

- Bring other people in to deliver sessions
- Use people that are closer to our age so that we know they have experienced similar things
- We will learn better if we can relate to the language used

Teach children from a really young age – its about prevention

- It's about us learning when we are young
- Waiting until we are at secondary school is too late to enforce boundaries and change behaviour
- Focus on primary school to start with – we can help by going to talk to them with your support.
